

License agreement Free OMAtools 03-06-2015

This agreement concerns the license of OMAtools V1.5, a free software to support the book:

Rune Brincker and Carlos Ventura: Introduction to operational modal analysis. Wiley 2015, in the following called the software to the receiver of this license, in the following called the customer.

The license is provided by

Brincker Dynamics ApS,

in the following denoted the vendor.

1. The acquired License

- 1.2. The license gives the right to the customer to use the software for education and teaching only.
- 1.3. The license is not valid for research and/or professional use.
- 1.4. The license gives the right to install the toolbox on his/her own computer for his/her own applications only.
- 1.5. The customer is not allowed to hand over the software to anybody else, be that students, colleagues, other people working in the same organization or in co-operation with the customer, or any other third party.
- 1.6. The license does not include support of any kind, and the customer acknowledges not making any requests to the vendor or any of its employees about any questions concerning the use and/or installation of the software.

2. Other licenses

- 2.1. If the customer want to use the software for research in university only (main activity teaching and research), the customer may request a software license for research.
- 2.2. If the customer want to use the software for research, development consulting or any other activity in a private company (main activity is not teaching and research), then the customer may request an enterprise software license.

End of license.